

I would also like to complain at this time about the lack of closed captioning on television programming. News programs are severely lacking in this area and captioning is non-existent on weather bulletins. The quality of captioning on many programs is so poor it is difficult to understand what is being said or what is going on during programs and most news broadcasts.